

Cooling-Off Period

A 7-day cooling-off period allows you to close the account without penalty or fee if you change your mind. No interest is paid during this period.

Renewal

When your investment matures, you can opt to renew the agreement. The reinvestment will follow the new terms and interest rate prevailing for Flexi Fixed Deposits at that time.

Account Closure

Free account closure. However, early redemption before maturity will result in penalty charges as per the Pricing Guide.

Benefits:

LetsGo Flex is designed for investors who want to earn higher returns than a standard savings account while maintaining some flexibility. By committing your funds for a predetermined period, you earn a competitive, predetermined interest rate that is calculated daily and paid monthly, allowing your investment to grow faster. The unique feature of this product is the ability to make partial withdrawals of up to 20% of your deposited amount, providing a safety net for unexpected financial needs. Additionally, you can continue to grow your investment by making additional deposits at any time during the term. The seven-day cooling-off period offers peace of mind, allowing you to reconsider your decision without financial penalty.
